Speaking in Tongues: How to Hold Space when God is the Visitor

Speaker: Roxane Raffin Chan, PhD, RN, AHN-BC
Planning Committee: Terri Roberts, JD, RN
Linda Thomas, PhD, RN-BC, CCRN, CHTP/I, HTAP

Overview:
The spiritual landscape is shifting in the United States as more people identify as “None” when asked for a religious affiliation. However, this new demographic is not easily categorized by a lack of spiritual drive. Many of them are seeking a new way of expressing and meeting their spiritual needs. Nurses, have historically reported a lack of adequate training to meet patient’s spiritual needs now find themselves the sole provider of these needs in the absents of their patients connection to a community based spiritual leader. This webinar will explore the shifting spiritual landscape and identify specific interventions that the nurse can call upon to explore and meet the spiritual needs of their patients.

Learner Outcomes
At the conclusion of this activity, learners will be able to:
- Explain how to begin conversations regarding spiritual needs
- Apply techniques that will create a spiritually supportive space for patients to explore and meet their spiritual needs
