American Holistic Nurses Association Names New Officers for 2015-2017 Term
The American Holistic Nurses Association has elected Jalma Marcus MSN, RN, HNB-BC, CBP, as a Board of Directors–at-Large for the 2015-2017 term. She will be installed at the organization's 35th Annual Conference to be held in Branson, MO in June, 2015.

About Jalma Marcus
Jalma Marcus has dedicated 45 years of her life to nursing and is currently the principal at Quantum HealthCare and Comprehensive Holistic Health, where she manages a Holistic Health and Wellness Center and provides holistic nurse assessments and individual holistic care using many energy/consciousness techniques. Jalma also uses her intensive knowledge gained from consulting with Providence Consulting, as well as her knowledge of chaos and systems theory, energy, and shamanic healing to provide holistic alignment for healthcare, corporate and other non-profit organizations.

Her nursing journey began at Boston University where she earned her Bachelor’s and Master’s degrees. She then went on to become a Board Certified Holistic Nurse and several other practices, including Outcomes Management, Accunect Self-Care Instructor, BodyTalk, Access Trainer, and Life Style Educator. She has used her knowledge of systems, energy and consciousness to help found several non-profit organizations and she believes that her years of experience and wisdom will help support AHNA as it expands to new heights.

About AHNA
At its founding in 1981, the American Holistic Nurses Association (AHNA) adopted as its primary mission the advancement of holistic healthcare by increasing awareness and promoting education as well as personal community-building among nurses, other healthcare professionals and the public. This non-profit professional membership organization is becoming the definitive voice for holistic nursing for registered nurses and other holistic healthcare professionals around the world. Holistic nursing focuses on integrating traditional, complementary and alternative treatment opportunities to improve the physical, mental, emotional and relational health of the whole person.

AHNA delivers valuable resources, improves educational tools, and offers superior networking opportunities to a vibrant and expanding universe of healthcare professionals. AHNA currently services almost 4,500 members through 143 local chapters/networks in the U.S. and abroad.

Holistic nursing is recognized by the American Nurses Association as an official nursing specialty with both a defined scope and standards of practice.
The American Holistic Nurses Association’s Education Provider Committee is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center. Commission (ANCC) on Accreditation.

Provider approved by the California Board of Registered Nursing, Provider # 10442.
