AHNA’s Practice Committee is pleased to announce that the Nurse Networking Calls (NNCs) have been approved for 1 CNE per call. Two free NNCs are offered every February, May, and October, with a new topic for each set of two calls. Each NNC lasts an hour. NNCs are recorded but the recordings are not shared.

What is an NNC? Using active listening and holding a safe, confidential space for each person, a small group and a facilitator begins with a centering exercise, then shares their thoughts, feelings, and experiences around a holistic nursing topic. Registered participants receive a practice-related article that provides an evidence-based resource for the topic of the call.

Expected Outcome: Learners will be able to identify one area of their nursing practice that might benefit from applying something they learned or realized either during the call or from reading the call’s article.
