American Holistic Nurses Credentialing Corporation Recognizes Kay Sandor PhD, RN, LPC, AHN-BC for Outstanding Support for AHNCC Certification

Kay Sandor PhD, RN, LPC, AHN-BC, AHNA member from Galveston, Texas was awarded the American Holistic Nurses Credentialing Corporation (AHNCC) Award for Outstanding Support for AHNCC Certification at the 38th Annual American Holistic Nurses Association (AHNA) Conference in Niagara Falls, New York, June 5 – June 10th, 2018. This award recognizes individuals who have distinguished themselves in the promotion of the AHNCC through certification. The American Holistic Nurses Credentialing Corporation (AHNCC) advances holistic nursing and nurse coaching through certification. Holistic nurses and nurse coaches promote health, wellness, and wellbeing as they facilitate their client’s growth and healing. Both certifications offer nurses a way to distinguish themselves as experts in nursing practice, education, and research.

About Kay

Kay has served on the AHNCC Board of Directors as President-elect, President, Past-president, and is currently the AHNCC Treasurer. During her six years on the board, she chaired or served on most of the standing committees including the Executive Committee, Marketing Committee, Finance Committee, Nominating Committee, and the Role Delineation Study Committee. Additionally, she serves on several task forces including the Consensus Model, Continuing Competency Manual, Organizational Model, Website Revision, and Strategic Plan Review Task Force. She co-chairs the Endorsed School Task Force and has reviewed several nursing programs for endorsement. Her commitment to certification in holistic nursing and nurse coaching has been instrumental in assisting the organization to move forward. Kay is a retired Professor who taught nursing at the University of Texas Medical Branch (UTMB), School of Nursing at Galveston for over 20 years. She earned her BSN from Marquette University in Milwaukee, a MSN from the University of Oklahoma in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and earned her Ph.D. in nursing from the University of Texas at Austin and completed her training in clinical psychology at the University of Houston at Clear Lake.
About AHNA

The American Holistic Nurses Association (AHNA) is a non-profit specialty nursing professional membership organization that serves as the definitive voice for registered nurses who practice holistic nursing.

Founded in 1981, AHNA’s primary mission is to advance holistic nursing through Practice, Community building, Advocacy, Research and Education. The association is dedicated to the continued development of evidence-based holistic research, self-care methods for nurses and non-pharmacological pain management. AHNA offers networking opportunities to its members along with continuing nursing education through webinars, self-study programs, publications, conferences, and scholarship and grant opportunities.

AHNA currently services more than 5,000 members through 146 local chapters in the U.S. and abroad. Holistic nursing is recognized by the American Nurses Association as an official nursing specialty with both a defined scope and standards of practice.
